INVITATION AS ADVISOR

Dear Professor Seeram Ramakrishna,

It is our pleasure to invite you as an advisor to TRIA.

TRIA is an award-winning, sustainable and innovative foodware company. Our products serve more than 100 million meals a year with clients consisting of Old Chang Kee, 4Fingers and SATS.

In our pursuit of circularity, we have developed Bio24, an end-to-end solution that brings foodservice waste from table to farm in 24hrs, including the leftover waste from single-use tableware. This potentially allow food service operators who relies heavily on single-use tableware, such as fast food restaurants, to transform themselves into zero-waste restaurants.

Bio24 is developed to addresses the end-of-life scenario for single-use tableware, a problem that sorely lack attention in the food service industry where the waste mostly end up at the incinerator or landfill, no matter if the material used is recyclable or biodegradable.

We are currently conducting feasibility studies with KFC Singapore, Hungry Jack, Singapore Airlines, SATS and JR East. We have further signed an MoU with SATS to co-develop Bio24 as an end-to-end system for the airline industry.

Bio24 could be a game changer for the packaging industry and right the path for circularity. But we face many challenges in our attempt to bridge the circularity gaps, such as traversing between manufacture, waste collection to compost distribution, and contextualising our technologies and value proposition for different markets.

With that in mind, we believe your expertise in circular economy and material science will add greatly to our efforts and allow us to bring a truly closed-loop solution to the rest of the world.

Sincerely,

Ng Pei Kang
CEO, TRIA
